The Managing Editor-in-Chief, Co-Editors-in-Chief and Co-Deputy Editors-in-Chief would also like to thank the members of the editorial board and Guest Editors of special issues in the journal for their dedication and expertise; to the authors who have entrusted us with their research; and to you — our readers — for your continued engagement and support.

Your contributions and readership sustain our mission to advance the science and engineering of autonomous and unmanned systems, spanning innovations in intelligent platforms, software and control, sensing and information processing, communications, navigation, machine intelligence, and their many emerging applications. Together, we are shaping a field defined by curiosity, rigor, and technological possibility.

We look forward to another year of publishing high-quality work that pushes the boundaries of automated and intelligent machine systems.
